

Peace and War in an Age of Globalization

A conference commemorating the 40th Anniversary of Pope John XXIII's "Peace on Earth" and the 20th Anniversary of the U.S. Bishops' "The Challenge of Peace"

May 2 -3, 2003
Seattle University
Seattle, Washington

Seattle University is offering a timely conference to our faith and civic communities of the Puget Sound region. This two-day event includes keynote speakers (see below) as well as several workshops on topics of peace and non-violence from ecumenical perspectives.

Featured Speakers:

"Reflections on Peace and War Teachings: A Pacifist Perspective"

Bishop Thomas Gumbleton
Roman Catholic Bishop of Detroit

"Resisting Evil: Recent Catholic Teaching on War and Non-violence"

Rev. Drew Christiansen, S.J.
Associate Editor, America Magazine

"Sustainable Earth-human Relations: Pathway to Just Peace?"

Dr. Cynthia Moe Lobeda
Lutheran Theologian
Author, Healing a Broken World: Globalization and God

Cost: $75.00
Seattle University Faculty, Staff and Students, Free

For information and registration materials:

Conference website: www.seattleu.edu/go/peaceconf
or Theology and Religious Studies Department, Seattle University
(206) 296-5320 or e-mail: damhsoir@seattleu.edu

Sponsored by: Seattle University's School of Theology and Ministry, Theology and Religious Studies Department, Gaffney Chair, Jesuit Mission Fund, Ann O'Hara Graff Lecture Fund, and the College Relations Committee.